

Commercial Strategic Energy Management

Earn incentives for saving energy, lower your bill

Our Commercial Strategic Energy Management (CSEM) program helps commercial customers earn incentives for making low- and no-cost changes that reduce energy usage and energy bills. Changes are largely to operations, maintenance and behavioral practices. We provide the training and guidance you'll need to begin your energy-management journey.

How you qualify

To be eligible for our CSEM program:

- You must be a current PSE business electric and/or natural gas customer.
- Your business site must be within PSE's electric and/or natural gas service area(s) and use electricity and/or natural gas from PSE.
- Buildings targeted in your CSEM portfolio must collectively use greater than 1,000,000 kWh or 135,000 therms (or a combination of both) annually.
- You must hire, contract or designate an existing staff member as your energy champion. This person acts as a liaison between your business and PSE, and is responsible for completing program deliverables and tasks, communicating energy-saving initiatives to your staff, and managing your site's energy bills. This position must be filled for a minimum of three years.
